

Carnival of Love - one of the stars of the evening

Go Red for Women is the national campaign of The American Heart Association that creates awareness of America's number-one killer of women: heart disease. The Red Dress movement has become a prestigious component of several entertainment events and was, for the first time, at Funktion Fashion Week. The American Heart Association hosted an exclusive after-party for the designers, celebrities, and benefactors involved with this year's show at the private estate of Sean and Ana Wolfington on Key Biscayne. The Miami event featured the highly acclaimed Australian wine Mollydooker. Sarah and Sparky Marquis, the winemakers behind Mollydooker, came in from Australia for the event and Sparky gave a dynamic presentation of the Mollydooker shake to the fashionable crowd.
